

I saw him coming from the upstairs room
His headlights shine like the moon
I smile, he never makes me wait

Twelve roses like the clock reads noon
Cinderella dances to the tune while,
there's no time to waste

So can we just slow down, while you make this mistake?
Just slow down, so my heart don't break

It's like you're flying through the sky in a big airliner
Looking at me with those dark brown eyes you say,
"I'll be forever yours"
Coming undone and my seams unravel
You know that I love you but my heart won't travel
But I'll still be yours

Sittin' in his car and it's 2 AM
He's holding me like this will never end
I try, try to hide my tears
Quarter to 3 and he's got to leave
A last goodbye and a kiss on my cheek,
I, won't forget these years

So can we just slow down, while you make this mistake?
Just slow down, so my heart don't break

It's like you're flying through the sky in a big airliner
Looking at me with those dark brown eyes you say,
"I'll be forever yours"
Coming undone and my seams unravel
You know that I love you but my heart won't travel
But I'll still be yours

So can we just slow down, while you make this mistake?
Just slow down, so my heart don't break

It's like you're flying through the sky in a big airliner
Looking at me with those dark brown eyes you say,
"I'll be forever yours"
Coming undone and my seams unravel
You know that I love you but my heart won't travel
But I'll still be yours

Flying through the sky in a big airliner
Looking at me with those dark brown eyes you say,
"I'll be forever yours"
Coming undone and my seams unravel
You know that I love you but my heart won't travel
I'll still be yours

The 17th came way too soon
Now I'm staring at this empty room
He said, "I'll be forever yours."
