

All I Need

Justin Nozuka

I remember
That bright noon
Sitting, mercy
Heard the loon
We were moving
Our hands to the light

You asked me, "Was it true?"
I said, "What, what you knew."
You left an absent clue
Then we both took light

Oh, for forgiveness and all you wanted love
Oh, yeah, for forgiveness and all you wanted love

Take me up, you are all I need
From the rough, you are all I need
Take me up, a brightness of the memory
From the rough, you are all, you are all I need

That's when you
Took taking off
Like a runner, you ran through the rough
Singing Blackstreet and sang that part too soon

I ran after you
Picked you up, mama
We jumped in the lake
And then we both got up
We were moving
Our hands to the starry night

Oh, for forgiveness and all you wanted love
Oh, yeah, for forgiveness and all you wanted love

Take me up, you are all I need
From the rough, you are all I need
Take me up, a brightness of the memory
From the rough, you are all, you are all I need

All in, ya, the weight and break from all that grief
Gentle we fall

Take me up, take me up darling
From the rough, fill me up darling
Further up, take me up darling
From the rough

Take me up, you are all I need
From the rough, you are all I need
Take me up, a brightness of the memory
From the rough, you are all, you are all

Further up, you are all I need
From the rough, you are all I need
Take me up, a brightness of the memory
From the rough, you are all, you are all I need
