

Hey

Recognize

I got a new name; get up on this x8

I got a

I was sad x3

Until I heard her guitar

Shinning like the stars

From outside an opera bar

On the east side

The way she played it made me feel like I was back home

Her eyes are like two suns shinning down on this desert I roam

Tell him x2

That is why I

I can't take this feeling in my heart anymore

Hey x 7

Time for me to step and make my way through the door

If by chance I see you on this road once again

I can guarantee you that I will not pretend

Ok, so what's new is it really the old pursuit

I meet the home girl on the corner of Broadview

And Queen, and she was that, power to hypnotize

Strumming on the guitar and telling me no lies

Behind the dark skin, was a soul of Isis

Priceless, Aquarius Pisces I was a fish

And she was the water, heavenly daughter

With southern twang claiming to be from Georgia

But I couldn't believe she had to be from galaxies

Far beyond and Kevin was so fond

Of the shape of her hands

I studied the lines in her face

Wondering if she knew what's the secret of human race is

Face it

I drop the Megatron Bomb

Thanks to Terry and Jackie I just stay calm

I got my heart broke one shot gun blow

But that's ok; I got a new name now

I got a new name; get up on this x8

Yo!

Dance to the x8

I can't take this feeling in my heart anymore

Time for me to step and make my way through the door

If by chance I see you on this road once again

I can guaranty you that I will not pretend

Better recognize C.A.N.A.D.A....eh....eh....what we say

Shame on a.. that tries to run game on a...

Ha ha ha...
