

The Phantom Cowboy

K's Choice

I came a long, long way
Just to be where I am
I followed no one down
And I'm not the same

I saw the wretched mountain of disbelief
I walked right through it and I know what I need

I hope you understand
It's alright, but I'm gonna be who I am

I have a thousand voices inside my head
Someone's always talking and it's driving me mad
So if I wander, if I stray
I can always turn and go the other way

I hope you understand
It's alright, but I'm gonna be who I am

I learned my truth
At least for now
Doing is the only way I know how

Oh, I hope, I hope you understand
It's alright
But I'm gonna be who I am
