Kalle Baah

Try another one, I've heard it before Try another one, I want to be sure You talk yo much, you never hush You'll never walk on the truth line You run around, and you go up and down You've got nothing in your mind You and your chatty mouth, go around And spreading out, that you're high in the sky All I want to do, all I want to say Is that you are a damned blasted lier Try another one, I've heard it before Try another one, I want to be sure You talk yo much, you never hush You'll never walk on the truth line You run around, and you go up and down You've got nothing in your mind So try another one, me no understand Why you're cheating your own friends Do you believe it or not, do you recieve it or not Or have you lost your last bit of sense Try another one, I've heard it before Try another one, I want to be sure
