Gateways of Bereavement

I stand and I cry Mourning in the Silent rain Death will light my Burden Endless is my Sorrow Gateways so Dark All these years of Dying

Gone are dreams of Velvet Voices I am you, we were one Vast are fields I walk Where sorrow never dies The Sky unities with the Blackened Rain Summon with my Tears Now descend on WinterWings My withering Soul.

Let me Die. Gateways of Bereavement A Temple of guilt Falling Deep Embraced in Grief My withering soul Let me Die

Farewell life and all I died for now my time is over on Earth Another journey has begun Alone I died, not praying for mercy nor praying for Salvation A lonely Journey in a Darkened Dream Time has come to spread my Wings

Slow... Descending from a Silent sky Death comes to take me away And from the Gateways you hear me cry...

...I love you...
