

Sweet Nurse

Katatonía

O my sweet nurse
pull the curtain aside for a while so that I can for once have the sun in my eye
you smile and say
it's a fine day

O my sweet nurse
pull the curtain aside for a while

Then like a ghost at night you come around all dressed in white talking to me and so I have to drink
the water with your poison spilled for no more will

O my sweet nurse
seems you have so little time that you rather put me to sleep than sit by my side