

World Stops Spinning

Kate Voegele

My heart is racing at the speed of light
Like a comet in a sky
I guess you could say
I've gone and lost my mind, oh

And that's alright
Cause I'd trade it for the look in your eyes
Cause in this moment

While the world stops spinning and it's only us
And it's only us tonight
And I'm already giving into your love
Well, you won me over right

I'm flying high, I'm touching the stars above
While the world stops spinning and it's only us
And it's only us tonight and it feels so right
It feels so right, so right

And now that I've tasted paradise
I can't remember what it was like
Before the day
I first felt your lips on mine, oh

What are the chances
That I've landed on another planet
I could swear it, cause here in your presence

While the world stops spinning and it's only us
And it's only us tonight
And I'm already giving into your love
Well, you won me over right

I'm flying high, I'm touching the stars above
While the world stops spinning and it's only us
And it's only us tonight, it feels so right
It feels so right, so right, It feels so right

And it's amazing how your love alone can save me
I've waited all my life to feel this way, hey
I'm never coming down, no one can make me

While the world stops spinning and it's only us
And it's only us tonight
And I'm already giving into your love
Well, you won me over right

While the world stops spinning and it's only us
And it's only us tonight
And I'm already giving into your love
Well, you won me over right

I'm flying high, I'm touching the stars above
While the world stops spinning and it's only us
And it's only us tonight, it feels so right
It feels so right, it feels so right, and it feels so right
