

How Long

Katie Costello

I see you wondering these empty halls
Looking for something you never found inside at all
I see you running looking for fights
You're always hunting your own shadow in the light
How long
Will it take to find your way back home
Tell me you'll be somewhere
Tell me you'll be something tonight
I know you're hurting from years by yourself
Take this or leave it, everyone needs their something else
How long
Will it take to find your way back home
Tell me you'll be somewhere
You'll be something tonight
Tell me you'll be something tonight
You'll find your way back
How long
Will it take to find your way back home
Tell me you'll be somewhere
You'll be something tonight
Tell me you'll be somewhere tonight
Tell me you'll be somewhere tonight
Tell me you'll be something tonight
