

We Can't Deny

Katie Herzig

We may give in and find what the mind can't hide
And the heart will follow
We may give in and see what our eyes can't see
And the light will follow
We may give in and hope
For the world to change while the peace is yearning
We may give in and find what a body brings
To a heart that's burning

We can't deny, we can't deny, we can't deny
Where the water flows
We can't deny, we can't deny, we can't deny
Where the wind blows

We live in times that feel the like the tide has turned
Like the truth is tainted
We live in times that tare at the fateful thread
Of the life un-wasted
We live in times that shape what the future holds and the future's yearning
We live in times that ask what our voices bring to a world that's burning

We can't deny, we can't deny, we can't deny
Where the water flows
We can't deny, we can't deny, we can't deny
Where the wind blows

The fate of the living
Is the will to survive
We're here for each other
And we must decide
That we won't give up
And we already know why
