

You Might Win

Kem

In the end
There can be only laughter
After the dance
Lies a whole new chapter

So never wait too long to try
'Cause you might, you might win

Love is all that we're after
Though we pretend
There's much more to capture
These are sacred days

Let's make room for each other
And let love have its way
Have your fill of its wonder

But never hold on too, too tight
And you might, you might win
You might win

So never wait too long to try
'Cause you might, you might win
Never wait too long to try
'Cause you might win, you might win

Never wait too long to try
'Cause you might win
