One Day Without

One day without you Without you My love One day without you Without you My love How I long for your skin 'Cause my lips barely grin And the day must begin My love Can't imagine your face In a far hidden place Please be home before grace My love One day without you Without you My love There's a road far ahead And many things to be said For the young newly wed My love 'Cause a day is like a year When you're no longer here I just wanna be near My love How I long for your skin 'Cause my lips barely grin And the day must begin My love Can't imagine your face In a far hidden place Please be home before grace My love One day without you Without you My love
