

Up on the screen it's so hard to tell when everything seems like it's something else and then you divert your eyes when it's hot to the touch and then you say "Goodnight, I think i feel too much." when will you come to your knees and bow to It you will come to your knees the time is running out and then nobody wins with

comets + violins
will wash away all of our sins
comets + violins

up on the screen it's so hard to tell when everything seems like it's something to sell and then you say you love her with a tragic charm yet you're breaking all the rules to harm Her come to your knees and bow to It

you will come to your knees
it's getting harder to breathe and it seems easy to see that

comets + violins
and in the end it will begin with comets + violins crashing over everything the skies will wash it over with things we chose to forget

and then it's over, over with

comets + violins
and in the End comets + violins crashing in the End it will begin.
