

Still Warmed by the Thrill

Kim Carnes

Oh the sun's coming through little cracks in the shade
Take a long look at you and I'm still amazed
You're the king of my heart, you're the spark in my eyes
I was straight out of luck 'til you saved my life

So hold me close like there ain't no heaven
Let the light you shine, cover and fill every empty place
I have been broken, let your love linger
Until I'm still warmed by the thrill

There's a dew on the grass and a mist on the hill
Will I always be there? Yeah, baby, I will
In this tattered old world where there ain't nothin' new Baby, I turned around, found an angel like you

So hold me close like there ain't no heaven
Let the light you shine, cover and fill every empty place
I have been broken, let your love linger
Until I'm still warmed by the thrill
