My motivations unresolved Things are just never what they seem Apathy's currencies deceit Pitch bending radiated dreams

The jackal's wishing well forgotten
Dark cloud sunrise
The view of someone somewhere else is
Burnt in my eyes

How long dug up remains
How low the rotting fame
How low to see right through
Low long the hole i knew
How low the clear eyed staind
How long to set aflame
How low to be set up
How long and taken out

The ant-like karma from the crack in a hand Full painting on a mural in a foreign landfill Mind controlled by the pulley of the strings So remote the view from the puppetry swingset

My reservations have evolved Scenes once negated ushered in Mercy killings one to one defend Visionary criminals descend On knees all burning

A term of useless lifeless thought What a paid ride Alchemic jail cell vivisection Text subject day job

How long to pacify How low you still deny How low from up above

How long the creeping crown How low the tripping sound How long to kick back down How low the holy cheat How long the leap of faith

These revelations undermined Controlled belief in leads mankind Each penny sold and mesmerized We're stoned Two fold reversal beckening

The binding crayon words inverted Justice in travestia

We worship acid moans and curbside holidays Recycle shit we throw away in glossy packaged craze Maybe in a day or so i'll stumble on that grassy knoll To set the record straight Announcing to myself: wake up

We kill everything that's not tied down
We euthanize but keep alive the lowest form of prison life
So useful and experimental
Treatment of the sick and dying
What about the torture?
