

The World Is A Stage

Korzus

The chains are broken
I'm ready to reveal my life
You can destroy my body
But never my soul

Your tomb is the pain of my suffering
Stupid ideas keep on killing
But the void doesn't close my throat
I am mute to the material world

Now you can hold death in my hands
Blind to lies humanity carries your cross
You are happy to decree death's command
You are the actor ...

The world is a stage !

The blades of your mind
Are dense and cold
My desire dominates
The paths of my blood

Look at the lies !

The steps of eternity drown you in the future
You scratch hope's eyes
With your own hands

You are the actor !

Your evil is that you don't see
Don't see your own self destruction
You can torture me a thousand years
But my mouth you only quiet with death
