

Against the Rest

Kreator

like a world religion like a perfect product of your fantasy embracing me
no rules no leaders
just the purest power of integrity all i can see
still a spark is rising
deep down in your chest compromise would equal
submission to your emptiness stand together against the rest
together against the rest following your own direction

when it feels so helpless neverhealing wounds of life have left their scars and you're the cause surrounded by aggression every word you hear is like oil into a flame
