

Leave This World Behind

Kreator

the outside world is cold as ice deep inside you're burning you're raging as you live your life this can't be all this is a lie so take my hand

this pain must end
into the sky if you believe we'll fly come on let's leave this world behind a precious gift you once forgot is awakening this moment if you believe it becomes real this energy they could not kill it gets so strong we'll melt to one

just spread your wings let loose and fly with me

this misery must fade away for us to see a better day if that's all there is to choose let it loose right now
