

New Game Now

Kris Kristofferson

The moment I entered the world of your vision
I swear that I started to shine
You feel like an angel descending from glory
To come like a dream into mine

Trembling and holding your breath at the wonder
Of hunger so holy and pure
Wild as the freedom I feel in my spirit
So tightly entangled in yours.

It's a new game now
I cast my fortunes with you
I see the dream comin' true
I've got that feelin' inside

When it all came down
Did you think I'd be tried and be true?
Did you know I was waiting for you
To love you the rest of my life?

Standing alone with your soul to the darkness
Deep as the stars in the sky
Are you the one they have chosen to lead me?
To wonder how far we can fly.

It's a new game now
I cast my fortunes with you
I see the dream comin' true
I've got that feelin' inside

When it all came down
Did you think I'd be tried and be true?
Did you know I was waiting for you
To love you the rest of my life?
