Four days in Spain Smoky Spain And I take off again Then I take off again Smiling back

The engine is idling and the car Seems to be expanding, weird Blindfolded kissing Looking for the truth in your tiny moves I hate to loose

Four days in Spain Spooky Spain And you're my missing thing Too sweet and pointless Complete and somewhere else

It's not an awful secret, you know
It's just a secret
Spitting out your blue gum
Kissing your breath away

After all, what am I missing
I haven't missed before
Sucking down the precious lies
I should have swallowed way before?

After all, what am I missing
I haven't missed before
Sucking down the precious lies
I should have swallowed way before?
