Decide

Someday, somewhere This life's neverending Never thought you were pretending Your dreams have died Your hands are tied The love you had Is coming back for the last time Day or night Night into day We've found the answer But it slips away Decide Decide Yeah Anyone can see That this is the end of All of the love you once abandoned Your dreams have died Your hands are tied The love you had Is coming back for the last time Daylight Starting to fade Tomorrow's coming But we want today Decide Decide It's your lovin' for the last ride Decide Be free What you like is what you can't see Just a little love Just a little love
