Electric Neon Sunset

Blue horizons, bridges burning The sun beats down hard all day Through it all the wheels keep turning Came so far but now we must away

Oh oh where we going Does anybody really care? Oh oh where we going Maybe I can meet you there.

Through the haze I see so clearly My last Venetian sunsets fade to gray And yes I love you so sincerely I bid you sweet a due And leave this day

Oh oh where we going Does anybody really care? Oh oh where we going Maybe I can meet you there. L.A. Guns
