Closer

Lacuna Coil

Want to get closer, in too deep Where there is something I wish for I'll go through Want to get closer into you No hell to discover I've got it all inside myself Salvation you have preached is gone No way, you can't turn it around

Looking for a higher ground Searching for this something missed before From a higher ground Will I fall in a right direction? (Higher, searching for more)

Falling apart There's nothing real That will convince me to change but I'll go through Want to get closer into you No hell to discover There is just nothing to betray Salvation you have preached is gone No way, you can't turn it around

Looking for a higher ground Searching for this something missed before From a higher ground Will I fall in a right direction? (Higher, searching for more)

Looking for a higher ground Searching for this something missed before From a higher ground Will I fall in a right direction? (Higher, searching for more)

Looking for a higher ground Searching for this something missed before From a higher ground Will I fall in a right direction? (Higher, searching for more)

Looking for a higher ground Searching for this something missed before From a higher ground Will I fall in a right direction? (Higher, searching for more)
