Existential Itch

I'm longing for something, I don't know what Can't figure out what it is Just like a hunger for what it's not A scratch that you just can't itch

And it's so good And it's so no no no It's so oh And it's so no no no

Well my life is easy, your life is good There's really nothing I need There's something just almost within my grasp It stays just beyond my reach

And it's so right And it's so no no no It's so right Yeah it's so no no no

Why does it taunt me the way it does And bring out the ache in me It just seems to haunt me in abstraction Elusive as it might be

And it's so right Yeah it's so no no no It's so right Yeah it's so no no no...
