

It's Only Today That Counts

Larry Norman

It ain't no good to lay in bed at night And think about the past About how you could have done things differently But it happened way too fast.

Just close your eyes, go to sleep Let the angels bring you dreams.
Let that pain unwind behind you And float away, float away on silent streams.

You gotta live your life the best you can Though you sometimes do your worst. You gotta laugh when you fail, it's not the end of the world Life is a play you can't rehearse.

Don't make big plans for tomorrow, You can't control what lies ahead. You must try to live each moment As it comes instead.

There is no use dreaming of a perfect future Or regretting a troubled past. It's only today that counts Live it like it might be your last. It's only today that counts Live it like it might be your last.

It never helps to worry, it never hurts to pray, Tomorrow will come soon enough; just pray about today. And relax, trust your life to God, The future is in his hand, Only faith will help you face each day's demands.

Ain't no use worrying, life goes so fast. It's only today that counts Live it like it might be your last. It's only today that counts Live it like it might be your last.