

Layover

Laura Marano

Baby, when you look at me like that
You make it hard to leave, you know, I say
No amount of miles breaks what we have
It's only you and me inside my head

Even on airplanes (airplanes, airplanes)
No matter where we are
Buses, cars, and trains (and trains and trains)
We're still underneath the same stars

Our love can travel the nation
Like an east coast west coast red-eye
Our love is running in motion
Through the high-speed sparkling night sky
Oh, I know that you hate it when we're not together
I'll call you on my layover

Baby, when you say my name, like, whoa,
I'm such a wreck, I forget how to breathe
Yeah, you know I can't stay on the phone
But what I wouldn't give to have you next to me

Even on airplanes (airplanes, airplanes)
No matter where we are
Buses, cars, and trains (and trains and trains)
We're still underneath the same stars

Our love can travel the nation
Like an east coast west coast red-eye
Our love is running in motion
Through the high-speed sparkling night sky
Oh, I know that you hate it when we're not together
I'll call you on my layover

Doesn't matter where we are
Doesn't matter where we're going
Even when it gets so hard
Yeah, I know that you hate it when we're not together
I'll call you on my layover

Our love can travel the nation
Like an east coast west coast red-eye
Our love is running in motion
Through the high-speed sparkling night sky
Oh, I know that you hate it when we're not together
I'll call you on my layover

Yeah, you know that I hate it when we're not together
I'll call you on my layover
