

I'll Remember You

Lee Kernaghan

In the school yard i remember
At seven years of age
You walked right up and kissed
My cheek and laughed and ran away.
I blushed and got embarrassed
And teased by all my friends
And i promised you i never would forget.
At 17 we stole a kiss
Down by the river bend
And we were high school sweethearts
When school came to an end.
But you said you had to travel on
That id find someone new
And as we said goodbye i swore to you

Ill remember how you
Stole my heart away
For every moment of every passing day
And ill promise u forever
If its all i ever do.
Ill remember ill remember you.

Now growing old together
Just gets better everyday
40 years have come and gone
Time just slips away
So if i should leave before you
And the angels let me through
You'll find me waiting there for you.

Now and forever
