

He's Gone

Leona Naess

He has gone
Like meaning from a song
He has gone
Like a vampire in the sun
Apologies, but no thank you please
He has gone
Like a bullet from a gun
And my wheels are turning
And this heart is burning

Daddy give me one more chance
At least another dance
Across the floor
Spin me round
Throw me up
And push me down
Throw me back
But pull me up close to your heart

He has thrown
Like a teenager from home
The webs been spun
And the funeral march has been sung
And my wheels are turning
And this heart is burning

Daddy give me one more chance
At least another dance
Across the floor
Spin me round
Throw me up
And push me down
Throw me back
But pull me up close to your heart

Throw me down
Pull me up
Crash into me and then break apart
Throw me down
But pull me up close to your heart

Follow my eyes across the room
You drunken groom
What a surprise
The music stopped the shoe has dropped

If you go then I go
If you throw then I throw
But you know and I know
I just can't dance with anyone

Throw me down
But pull me up
Crash into me and then break apart
Throw me down
Pull me up close to your heart
Throw me down

Pull me up
Crash into me and then break apart
Throw me down
Pull me up close to your heart

He has gone
He has
He Has gone...
He has gone...
He has gone...
He has gone...
He has gone...
He has gone...
