

Introduction

Leonard Cohen

Thank you so much friends.
I was having a drink with my old teacher, he is 102 now
and this was, he was just, about 97 at that time and I pour him a drink and he clicked my glass and said:
excuse me for not dying.
and i kind feel the same way.

i want to thank you not just for this evening, but for the many years you've kept my songs alive,
i really appreciate it.

I don't want anyone to get alarmed, i know you probabaly have never seen any of this before, but it goes by itself.
