

Foreigner

Leprous

My congregation is in flames
I can't seem to find my aim
Complete lack of logic sense
Still strapped within my own fence

Feel just like a knucklehead
Just can't realize what's left
I've had enough of this façade
Time to surpass once and for all

It's a fight to stay alive
For my light has gone missing
It's a fight to stay alive
It's a fight against myself

It's a fight to stay alive
It's a fight against my imaginary harm
It's a fight to stay alive

Became a foreigner in my own head
My sword is double-edged
Might have to put away my sledge
