

Absolute in Doubt

Lil Peep

Running up that hill
You pushin me back
Think that I can make you want it bad
I don't need it tho
(I don't need it tho)
Sometimes you make me wait
And make it like a plan
Wish that you could help me understand
Why because I don't know
(I dunno)

Sometimes I feel that weight
I hold that in my chest
Sometimes I hold it back
Other times I'm blessed

Other times I want more
You put me in debt
I want you like so alive
Wanna be like so inside, wanna be like

Fore me want you to be
More into it than this
For me I want more than you
Seem to wanna give

I see passion in the way
You turn your back
Money and the ice
I put upon your wrist

There's a silhouette inside
A lucid dream
I project myself on you
Then back to me

There's a reason that
She doesn't call me back
Is the way it is way
It really seem

There's a vision of an altar now
Me and the one some
Passing on and out
(out, out)

It wasn't something that I thought about
But knew that you were absolute in doubt

It wasn't something that I thought about
But knew that you were absolute in doubt
I just really wanna talk to you again
That's how I know that imma haunt you in the end

It wasn't something 'till you brought it up
I knew that you were trying to make it out
But now I see the scar, clawing at my arm

I saw you in his car, swear I knew it from the start

Bring me down, it's not that easy
Lay me down just please don't leave me

I remember you were climbing on top of me
Why you acting like you fucking forgot me
I've been dreaming about a place out in Hollywood
Tell my mama that I'm moving to Hollywood

Bring me down, it's not that easy
Lay me down just please don't leave me

Bring me down, it's not that easy
Lay me down just please don't leave me

It wasn't something that I thought about
But knew that you were absolute in doubt
