

Do you crawl out every morning
Every crinkle in the life force
Is a warning
In your darkest time of violence
There's a smile

Does your heart betray your mind
Is it wrong to gag and bind
Every little thought that stands up like a sign
Your bags are packed this time

In your darkest time of violence
There's a smile

In your darkest time of violence
There's a smile

In your darkest time of violence
There's a smile

In your darkest time of violence
There's a smile

In your darkest time of violence
There's a smile

In your darkest time of violence
There's a smile

In your darkest time of violence
There's a smile

In your darkest time of violence
There's a smile

(In your darkest time of violence)
(There's a smile)

(In your darkest time of violence)
(There's a smile)
