

In This Church

Lucy Spraggan

We got left a warning so we separate the crowds,
We question and we argue and we disrespect and doubt.
I believe the answer lies in caring so much less,
In things that don't concern you that you don't need to address

There's no safety in this church,
you believe I'm you deserve.
I lack faith but I don't mind,
I'll see you in less time than last time.

You won't need to judge me, and I won't need to pretend,
That the very worse of enemies were once the best of friends.
I understand your attitude and I'll defend deprived,
I'll ask our common enemies to step the fuck outside.

There's no safety in this church,
You believe I'm you deserve.
I lack faith but I don't mind,
I'll see you in less time than last time.

I believe in loving what you do and who you want,
I believe my conscience, I believe in right and wrong.
I believe there's wisdom in the things that can't be taught,
We're all created equal, we're all naked when we're born.

There's no safety in this church,
You believe I'm you deserve.
I lack faith but I don't mind,
I'll see you in less time than last time.

There's no safety in this church,
You believe I'm you deserve.
I lack faith but I don't mind,
I'll see you in less time than last time.
