

How Could I Tell You

Lunik

I could see the sky turn grey as if it was pointing out my mood
There is so much to say but I don't make a sound
I was playing with a marionette but now the threads are riven
And this marionette is me
Can you forgive me that I lost the faith in us

How could I tell you and explain to you
You're not what I need
I don't wanna hurt you but it's true
With you I cannot be me
I would have given it all to you - don't you know?
But I've already given it all away a long time ago
Long time ago

I am so tired of this
It all got out of hand
I lay my head on the floor
I don't need it anymore
I lost the faith in us

How could I tell you and explain to you
You're not what I need
I don't wanna hurt you but it's true
With you I cannot be me
I would have given it all to you - don't you know?
But I've already given it all away a long time ago
Long time ago

How could I tell you
How could I tell you and explain to you
You're not what I need
I don't wanna hurt you but it's true
With you I cannot be me

How could I tell you and explain to you
You're not what I need
I don't wanna hurt you but it's true
With you I cannot be me
I would have given it all to you - don't you know?
But I've already given it all away a long time ago
