

Astronaut

Lush

I recall how we used to meet
Running through the windy streets
Faces touched with body heat
I know
I can see us breathing from above
Lives are changing with our useless love
Is that enough?
To feel her pain
To be with him, the same
To see you in vain
I rely on a moment's thought
Floating like an astronaut
Hiding is the last resort
I know
