

Watching the Lights

Lydia

So while I'm wide awake, wide awake while I got you here, cuz we come and go yeah, if I had to say it, had to say it, had to say it right now I don't know wearing some black sunglasses and your mouth was full saw you almost fall while we were by the shore I started laughing at your wide eyes but you're living girl, you're living alright watching your legs move across the water watching it all spin a little slower oh, and then the rain came, found some cover I don't even know her while we try and talk, try and talk, try and it out yeah I like your face while the ships moved away, moved away from the harbor never caught your name it looks like in my tracks, storm again if it does, might have a glass or two just depends cuz still I was laughing at your wide eyes but you're living girl, you're living alright
watching the lights move across the water watching it all spin a little slower
I don't even know her
I don't even know her so can you feel it in the wind at your back and the sun upon your face my friend can you hear me in the words in my stumbles yeah, tell me how it goes again and then I'll tell you I'll be keeping close to the riverside I've been watching all these songs collide I heard them late nights, yeah they sound like
