

From Within

Magnum

Now I'll just begin
Can't say where I'm going
Won't let it wear thin
Or pass without knowing
I wish you good health
And you know I won't be
Deceiving myself
Still looking but can't see

My senses are dulled
My feelings get carried away

From within, everyone
Let go, you will find
From within, you can run
No hill you can't climb

I woke up today
The sun had come shining
From so far away
It's already dying
But I wish you well
And thank you for trying
So hard to dispel
And stop all this crying

I'm not sure I can find
The thought that was stolen away

From within, everyone
Let go, you will find
From within, you can run
No hill you can't climb

From within, there's a truth
Too small to unwind
From within, there's the proof
Can't see if we're blind

You'll be all right
All right
You'll be all right

From within
From within
No hill you can't climb

From within
Let go, you will find
From within
No hill you can't climb

From within
Too small to unwind
From within
