

The Fall

Magnum

Maybe tomorrow your day will come
Searching for something, like everyone
But while you're sleeping, dream away fast
All that you're thinking, lost in the past
Well, there's something wrong
We've known it too long

God bless us all
Look what we've done to this place
We don't care at all
Washing the blame from our face
Soon there'll be no one to call

Maybe we follow, choose the wrong path
Carry on blindly, scared to come last
Feel like a stranger in your own room
No one can see you shine like a jewel
There's no magic verse
Will save us from this curse

God bless us all
People who live in this place
Don't care at all
Probably won't leave a trace
After we've taken the fall

The Moon's on the run
Making a break for liberty
The world's come undone
But we don't want to see

God bless us all
Look what we've done to this place
We don't care at all
Washing the blame from our face
Soon there'll be no one to call

God bless us all
People who live in this place
Don't care at all
Probably won't leave a trace
After we've taken the fall
