When the sun begins to fade, a blaze of blood embrace between u s

Our kisses like a falme reborn, wrigglin', rise, snowin' throug h death

Ever in our life...Gusts of wind break into out cold Love has never made a choice I realize it facin' two mirrors Dreamin', bleedin', like a larva thorn

I groan through this blood full night fallin' from my eyes You never saw how strongly loves a Crow while the sun was low..

I hold you close... This passion of beast is a charmin' mournful thing

Night has fallen in deepest forest's shine. It was a time when we fell down

Meetin' you made my life so brave. When I joined you into your grave

I still call and long for you tonight...through the mirror's light

You never tried lyin' by my side

You never know how strongly loves a Crow

I hold you close my howlin' flow, ever...

I try to play my best cadence of sounds with melodies $% \left(1\right) =\left(1\right) \left(1\right)$

I hope to heal your heart...

Never will you lose. Never will you clang my farewell Standin' I cry waitin' for my...bloody bites,

Never will you lose...never will you try...
