

Last One I Love

Marc E. Bassy

Lately in the evening
Laying next to my lover
And the moon on your silhouette
Is my only guide
And I can't even read your eyes
So my mind slowly begins to wonder

Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?
Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?
Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?
Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?

Robbers through the alley
Sneaking through our back window
It was all for nothing
It was empty inside
And it's pouring in L.A. tonight
So I walked all the way back down Pico

Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?
Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?
Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?
Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?

If you're good money, baby, step into the light
And let me know that you're out here tonight
Yeah I mixed words and some whiskey on the flight
Just to make sure I landed on time
And I wrote me a song I could sing
Just in case I forgot everything
And the chances are it will fade
Just in case it never goes away

Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?
Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?
Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last

One I love?
Yeah I wonder, will you
Be the last
One I love?
