

Take Good Care

Marco Borsato

Oh I know times are changing
It's a brand new start
While your life's just beginning
Mine's falling apart

Just found out what I'm loosing
And it's making me sad
Please take good care of my friend
She's all I've ever had

Don't you know what I'm feeling
Well, just turn things around
Imagine I'm stealing
What you've rightfully found
Do you see why I'm bleeding
Why it's driving me mad
Please take good care of my friend
She's all I've ever had

Oh I wish I'd found out sooner
That I loved her this way

Don't you know what I'm feeling...
...Please take good care of my friend
She's all I've ever had
