

Sleeping Next to You

Marié Digby

You breathe
Heavy and slow
What are you seeing? I hope that it's beautiful
And I,
Lay wide awake swallowed in silence
Was this a mistake?
Sleeping next to you
Sleeping next to you

But tide swept us away
Far out in the ocean
And I showed you my face
For you, this may be enough
But it's my heart that's dying
When it knows it's not loved
Sleeping next to you
Sleeping next to you
I'll miss sleeping next to you
When real life is better than dreaming

Even if this wasn't right
I'm still crying in the middle of the night
Wishing you were here, wishing you were here

Sleeping next to you
Sleeping next to you
I'll miss sleeping next to you
When real life is better than dreaming
