

Losing You All Over Again

Mark Chesnutt

I crossed the street and here you are
Yeah, seeing your face sure is hard
What's done is done
And I knew this day would come

I can feel the words getting caught in my throat
And I can feel the tears starting to roll
It's almost like a memory, I'm standing here
That look in your eyes, this feeling inside's
Just like losing you all over again

You sure look good, you always did
So how's your folks and your sister been?
Don't wanna hold you up
Always knew this was gonna be tough

I can feel the words getting caught in my throat
And I can feel the tears starting to roll
It's almost like a memory, I'm standing here
That look in your eyes, this feeling inside's
Just like losing you all over again

It's almost like a memory, I'm standing here
That look in your eyes, this feeling inside's
Just like losing you all over again
That look in your eyes, this feeling inside's
Just like losing you all over again
