

Come Alive

Mark Schultz

Whatever happen to your child like wonder?
Whatever happened to your heartfelt faith?
You used to live your life with such a hunger
Whatever happened to those days?

Your smile use to tell a beautiful story
But every life we'll make a few wrong turns
And now you hide your heart
Afraid that you're too far beyond repair, oh, but I am His

So bring your broken heart to me
Lift it up and you will see
That our love can make a heart that's barely beating
Come alive, come alive

My love is stronger than your weakest moment
My grace is greater than your worst mistake
No matter where you've been
I'm waiting at the end of every road

So bring your broken heart to me
Lift it up and you will see
That our love can make a heart that's barely beating
Come alive, come alive

So close your eyes, let me love you
I'm by your side
So close your eyes, let me love you
I'm by your side

Bring your broken heart to me
Lift it up and you will see
That our love can make a heart that's barely beating
Come alive, come alive

And even when it all goes wrong
There's no such thing as too far gone
And our love can make a heart that's barely beating
Come alive, come alive

Close your eyes, let me love you
I'm by your side
Come alive, come alive
Come alive, come alive
