

Bitter Heart

Mason Jennings

Hold me closer, I am open, I've been waiting, don't be shy
Wrap your loving arms around me, press your face against mine
Once a liar, once a cheater, yes your light went underground
I have seen it here inside me and that light is what was found
Come home, come home sweetheart
Come home bitter heart
Let go and love
Are you broken, are you beaten, are you stranded in your head
Has your path made you a stranger
Does that stranger want you dead
Come home, come home sweetheart
Come home bitter heart
Let go and love
Our world is filled with ordinary things
Fear and hate and doubt
Our world is filled with only what we see
Can we see love now
Can we see love now
