

What a Sight

Matchbook Romance

What a sight
Never thought I'd find you here
Last I knew you'd disappeared
We all get lost.

I thought I
Had lost you amongst the mess
And the cluttered things in my head
But here you are.

When you wake
I'll be a thousand miles away
From the promises I made
And all our love.

I'm a dreamer
With nothing left to dream
Tryin' to tear a hole in the seam
Of reality

Don't ever forget me
Don't ever forget me
I thought I lost you
Thought I lost you
I thought I lost you

Thought I'd lost you amongst the mess
And the demons in my head
But here you are

I would leave
To return more lost than before
A little more tired, a little less sure
Of where I was

The Earth would move but
We would stand in place
Hide in the shadows of the day
We're almost out of time
Yeah, we're almost out of time

Don't ever forget me
Don't ever forget me
I thought I lost you
Thought I lost you
I thought I lost you
