

Love Is The Same Anywhere

Matt Monro

Love is the same anywhere
It may be London, New York or Paris
All of us walk in the air
They kiss and cuddle just like you and me
They gaze at each other with bright starry eyes
For them, no clouds gather
There's only blue skies

When you're in love you just don't care
For love is the same anywhere

Love is the same anywhere
It may be in London, New York or gay Paris

All of us walk in the air
They kiss and cuddle just like you and me
And they gaze at each other with bright starry eyes
For them, no clouds gather
There's only blue skies

When you're in love you just don't care
For love is the same anywhere

For what's in a name?
We're all built the same
And love is the same anywhere