Going up to winter's falls
Going to winter's falls
Somewhere in the desert
Where the clover grows green and tall

And the wind slows down
And the waves stop crashing
The trees lay down
For a while on the shore

Let the wind and rain
And the water take the ocean
Let the stars melt down from the sky
Let the rocks roll back
To the top of the mountain
Until the beginning of time

Going up the river walls
Sailing the river walls
Somewhere in the desert
Where the mushrooms grow blue and tall

And the wind slows down
And the waves stop crashing
The trees lay down
For a while on the shore

Let the wind and rain
And the water take the ocean
Let the stars melt down from the sky
Let the rocks roll back
To the top of the mountain
Until the beginning of time

They say it rolls away
But they never seen 'em fall
They say it rolls away
But they never, never seen 'em fall

Going up to winter's falls
Sailing the river walls
Somewhere in the desert
Where the clover grows green and tall

And the wind slows down
And the waves stop crashing
The trees lay down
For a while on the shore

Let the wind and rain
And the water take the ocean
Let the stars melt down from the sky
Let the rocks roll back
To the top of the mountain
Until the beginning of time

Let the wind and rain

And the water take the ocean
Let the stars melt down from the sky
