

How Does It Feel Right Now

Melissa Manchester

He's in the market for a hiding place
He'll pay a very good price
And he'll try anything
To cut the pain behind his lonely eyes
She honestly believed
He would have changed somehow, but

How does it feel right now?
Hold on
Do you remember
How does it feel right now?
He's gone
You're acting so surprised
Just open up your eyes
You're only wasting time

Inside a baby's crying all the time
Ain't getting what she needs
Outside the woman's giving all she can
But she forgets to breathe
She'll always be the same
She's got to change somehow, but
