

Second Chance

Michael Schulte

I'm still wondering why we both kept lying
To ourselves and to what we felt
I know that you couldn't say what you felt deep inside
But holding it back made both of us regret each day

Don't look back
Forget the past
Take the new chance now
Let your heart be free
And tell me how you feel

I always saw that there was something in your eyes
But I just pushed it to the back of my mind
You were my everything, and just the way you smiled
Could make me forget about the world and so I say

Don't look back
Forget the past
Take the new chance now
Let your heart be free
And tell me how you feel

I never meant to hurt you, and you never meant to hurt me
So let's take the second chance and try it one more time

Don't look back
Forget the past
Take the new chance now
Let your heart be free
And tell me how you feel

Don't look back
Forget the past
Take the new chance now
Let your heart be free
And tell me how you feel
